Talk of the Town (of Lyme)

In our previous Lyme Light article, the following projects in the Town of Lyme were highlighted. I am pleased to provide this update:

- Water Facility: The new water facility is now complete and open for business! Thank you to Ed Barton and Son, Builders, the Town of Lyme Water Board, the Village of Chaumont and the Lyme Highway Department for making it happen!
- Lyme Veterans Memorial Park: Progress continues with bi-weekly virtual meetings held to address such matters as permitting, budgeting, record-keeping, program compliance, etc. Parties to these meetings include representatives of the NYS Departments of State and Environmental Conservation, the NYS Dormitory Authority, the Lake Ontario REDI Project Manager (Executive Chamber REDI Project Team), Army Corps of Engineers and the Town of Lyme and BCA Architects & Engineers.
- Town Office / Town Meetings: The Town Office is now fully open for regular business, Monday through Thursday, between the hours of 9 AM - 4 PM. Regular meetings of all town boards will now be open to the public. Individuals who are not vaccinated will be asked to continue to wear masks.

As we've all experienced during this last unusual year, life is often too complicated to focus on much more than the basic tasks of everyday life. For many of us, keeping up with current issues facing local government - its day-to-day operations, challenges faced, or the many functions performed - is not high on the to-do list, if it makes the list at all! In future issues, we hope to use this forum to present information explaining these functions and to inform residents of certain benefits about which they may be unfamiliar.

One such benefit is the support provided to community organizations. New York State law allows municipalities to provide funding for organizations and activities considered to be of benefit to the community - including those considered to be educational, cultural or recreational in nature, as well as those that address particular issues of safety and welfare. Each year, the Town Board is presented with funding requests from several groups hoping to continue their missions, institute new endeavors or expand their outreach to the greater community. The proposals are carefully reviewed and considered, with attention to the overall community benefit, demonstrated fiscal responsibility of the organization and its resources and personnel necessary to deliver its goals and objectives. A written agreement is then executed between each individual organization and the Town of Lyme that sets forth the specific community benefit and the funded amount. The Town Board has been pleased over the years to provide this financial assistance to a number of deserving groups that enhance the quality of life in the Town of Lyme. The organizations receiving funding this year are as follow:

Caring for Cats Foundation
Chaumont First Responders
Chaumont Volunteer Fire Department
Chaumont-Three Mile Bay Chamber of Commerce
Lyme Community Foundation
Lyme Free Library
Lyme Garden Club
Lyme Heritage Center
Lyme Performing Arts Council
Three Mile Bay Ambulance
Three Mile Bay Volunteer Fire Company
Volunteer Transportation Center

Please consider joining the Town of Lyme in supporting these worthy organizations.

A Message from the President

Finally, the weather is cooperating, and it looks like we might be out on the lake soon. I know some people have braved it and have been out already but with the low water levels and crazy weather. I know my family was late getting our boat in the water this year. It is really crazy how for two years we had so much flooding - we were not able to get our boats into the water before the Fourth of July - and now the water levels are so low it might be the same thing this year for many.

It certainly has been one of the most challenging years I can remember and with NYS guidelines changing almost daily it is hard to keep up with whether we need to wear masks, not wear masks and what the rules are for each establishment we might visit. We are doing our best to open the Copley House, following the most recent COVID rules for small and large gatherings. I am like most of you and can not wait until we can get back to the way it used to be. Hopefully we will see you all soon at our local events.

I would like to take this time to thank everyone for their support of the Lyme Community Foundation over the past 23 years. After being a founding member of the foundation back in 1996 and being the Secretary, Vice President, and most recently the President for many years I have decided it is time for me to step down and let someone else take over. I will remain on the board to assist with the transition, and I will fully support the foundation in any way I can. Between my work responsibilities, school and community involvement and my family commitments it has become just too much for me at this time. I appreciate all of the support you have all provided to me over the past 23 years and I know you will all continue to support the foundation and all they do for our community.

Please be sure to continue to check our website for updates and new programs and events. I hope you all have a wonderful 4th of July celebrating with family and friends!!!

Thank You to Donna Zang and Warren Barkley

The Lyme Community Foundation would like to take this opportunity to thank Donna Zang and Warren Barkley for their many years of service to the foundation board. Donna and Warren have resigned from the board and they will truly be missed.

Donna has been an important member of the foundation and has been in charge of the Lyme Community Foundation's Grip It & Rip It Golf Tournament. She has been the secretary for the foundation for many years and she has taken on the role of doing inventory of the kitchen and is always there to volunteer whenever she is needed for many of the foundation's events. Donna will be missed and we thank her for her many years of service to the foundation.

Warren Barkley has been a member of the Lyme Community Foundation for many years. Warren was a member of the Buildings and Grounds Committee and he has spent many volunteer hours helping to make the grounds of the Copley House look as great as they do today. Thank you Warren for your support of the foundation.

Lyme Garden Club

"I get inspiration from a lot of things around me - nature, hills, people, and even insects." - Ruskin Bond

The Lyme Garden Club has been very busy - 29 pots and several gardens have been planted. We would like to thank Rhodes Greenhouses for the beautiful flowers. The Garden Club would also like to thank Pat Weston and his crew for placing the pots around town. Lastly we would like to thank the many volunteers who helped plant and who help maintain the gardens/pots throughout the summer season. If you would like to join the Lyme Garden Club or have any questions, email lymegardenclub@earthlink.net Beneficial insects can help your garden by eating the pest insects that would otherwise eat your plants. Only about a tenth of the thousands of insects in your back yard are destructive. Most are either beneficial or harmless.

The following are beneficial insects taking up residence in your gardens:

- ✧ Ladybugs are ferocious predators. They start out life as larvae, cruising around on plants and feasting on aphids. Ladybug larvae can eat up to 40 aphids an hour!
- ✧ Green lacewing larvae, which look like a mix between a slug and an alligator, prey upon soft-body garden pests, including caterpillars and aphids.
- ✧ Praying mantis are fierce predators and feast upon grasshoppers and beetles. Note, however, they will eat other beneficials, such as butterflies and bees.
- ✧ Spiders (technically arachnids) are attracted to their prey by movement and eat many live insects.
- ✧ Ground beetles is the name of a large group of predatory beetles that are beneficial as both adults and larvae. They will feast on nematodes, caterpillars, thrips, weevils, slugs and silverfish.
- ✧ Braconid wasps lay their eggs on the backs of tomato hornworms and other caterpillars. As the eggs hatch, the larvae actually feed on the hornworm/caterpillar. Eventually the weakened hornworm/caterpillar will die.

The first and obvious reason for using beneficial insects is not having to resort to chemical pesticides. Chemical pesticides are just as deadly to the good insects and their use for long-term maintenance of your garden will not be effective in wiping out a second wave of pests. Also, a number of insects are starting to show greater resistance to chemical pesticides.

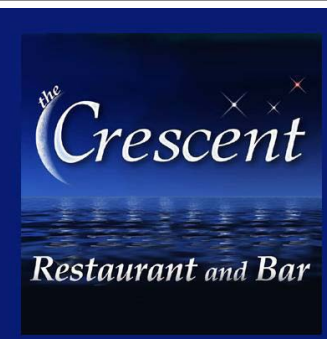

A diversity of plants will attract a wide range of insects. Many beneficial insects appear in the garden before the pests do and need an alternative food source such as pollen and nectar if they are to stick around. By providing water, food and shelter, your garden will become an inviting home for beneficial insects. (almanac.com, organiclesson.com).

CYC Junior Division

The Summer Sailing Series - Part 2: Community Sailing

Each summer in Chaumont the excitement and buzz starts to build as we get ready to put the boats in the water. Stories start being told and our minds flood with the lifelong friendships and memories we made while sailing in Chaumont Bay at Junior Division.

Jack Leard has participated for 7 years. He is transitioning from camper to CIT. Jack travels from New Jersey each summer. Jack shared, "We took a long sail to the Long-point a couple of years ago. It was one of the longest sails we had ever done. We had so much fun when we got there. We played games, ate lunch, and just had a blast!" Jack is looking forward to sharing traditions with his friends such as grill day, water wars and awards night!

Sam Dutilly was a camper only one summer. He, however, continues to race in the summer with his grandfather Bob Wardwell, in the Lightning Fleet as well as Off-Shore on Lake Ontario. Sam is Senior Staff Sailing Instructor now. Sam recalled, "It was a windy day with the juniors. A small group was racing and some of the kids had never raced by themselves before. The newer racers were struggling at first and having difficulty catching up to the others. As the afternoon went on though, they began really getting it and I saw their smiles get wide as they got faster in each race. It was just a great day on the water getting to see the campers really improve their skills and enjoy themselves."

Addie Weir is a local. She has been in the program for 7 years. She is joining the staff as a Junior Counselor. Her fondest memories include the friendly racing that happens out on the water with her friends. One of her favorite traditions is Ribbon Day! She explained, "At the end of every week, the instructors give out ribbons to campers who deserve extra recognition for their hard work. It gives others a goal to strive for and is so gratifying to receive an award from people you look up to."

Many youth have come through the program with stories of their own. Along with building lifelong skills and love of sailing, most note that it is the friendships and life skills that they remember most. We hope that you will reach out to us to share your own memories. For more information go to www.juniordivision.org.

Lyme Heritage Center

Our First Independence Day Celebration

By the Lyme Heritage Center

In 1802 Chaumont was the site of the first Independence Day celebration in this part of New York State. Independence Point is named for the party it hosted 219 years ago. Frank D. Rogers described the event in his 1897 book "Folk-Stories of the Northern Border":

"The first celebration of our national independence in all this region of the country was held at Chaumont in 1802. The number in attendance was certainly more than a hundred persons. From Champion and Hounsfield, Watertown, and Brownville, Sackets Harbor and Cape Vincent, and other points of settlement, the forefathers and foremothers came to do homage to the old flag and the land of the brave. Several were Revolutionary soldiers. Food and drink were plenty. Indians and squaws must also have joined the festivities. Rum and maple sugar, shooting at a mark and wrestling, stories and songs, and fife and drum, could hardly have been wanting on this occasion, although there is no published report of the proceedings to guide in making out the history of that Fourth of July."

The Lyme Heritage Center

We've got a great lineup of programs scheduled for this summer!

On July 18th Maureen Barros and Bob Uhlig will hold a discussion about Jefferson County's stone houses. They are the authors of a book on this subject and they have a wealth of information to share.

On August 15th Clarence Giles will talk about Penet's Square, a fascinating part of local history that few are familiar with.

The Lyme Heritage Center is open for the summer with regular hours! Volunteers are available on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays from 1-3PM, Tuesdays from 10AM-12PM, and Friday evenings from 6-8PM.

We love to have visitors come in and browse our collections. In addition to family files and binders of local interest, we have yearbooks from Lyme Central (some of which are for sale), copies of the Thousand Islands Sun, Bilkey Moore's Lyme post card collection, and many diaries, memoirs, and autobiographies.

If you have any questions about the Heritage Center, please contact Shirley Williams at 315-649-5780.

Acte II Closing

When we opened the doors to Acte II in 2001 the community responded with tremendous support. At that time there were few stores in the area that offered name brands and a selection of quality women's clothing.

Over the years dedicated volunteers have committed countless hours sorting, pricing, and displaying the donated clothes featured in the shop.

We are closing the store due to declining patronage and low prices available in the many big box stores now in Watertown.

A heartfelt THANK YOU is sent out to all the volunteers over the last 20 years. A very special thank you to Lynda Carney, volunteer coordinator and Bev Glerum who used her expertise in retail merchandising to make Acte II look appealing to our customers. LCF appreciates all the hard work that went into generating funds that supported the programs and events at the Copley House.

The remaining clothing will be donated to charitable organizations.

Grip It and Rip It Golf Tournament

Hosted by the Lyme Community Foundation

Write up by Donna Zang

Do you know how GOLF got its name? My Husband is convinced because it is FLOG spelled backwards. I beg to differ. Golf was first mentioned in writing back in 1457 on a Scottish Statue on forbidden games as "gouf" (spelled variously) meaning to "strike at the cuff." It also may have been derived from the Dutch word "kolf" meaning "bat or club."

The name "Grip It and Rip It" came from a golf partner that said this, most frequently, when we were on a difficult hole and her ball was already out of play, in a pond, out of bounds - you get the idea. Thanks Pal!.

The details for the event, hosted by the Lyme Community Foundation, are below:

Event: Nine Hole, Four Person - Captain & Mates

Where: Bay Breeze Golf Links, 11390 Cheever Rd., Chaumont.

Date/Time: Saturday August 14, 2021 - 10 AM Shot Gun Start (Please be at the course by 9:30 AM to sign in.)

Price: $160.00 per team, includes Nine holes of golf with cart and hot dog or burger on the course, provided by LCF.

Following play, there will be refreshments and cash bar at the club house for your enjoyment. There will be raffles, fun, food, a lot of laughs and tall tales to tell. Thank you to Kris and Bob, of Bay Breeze Golf Links, for sponsoring our tournament.

Not a golfer? Join us at the club house for raffles and refreshments after play.

The Lyme Community Foundation is looking for Teams, Hole Sponsors ($30/hole) and donated items for the raffle.

We welcome your donation to the Lyme Community Foundation, a 501(c)(3) non-profit.

For More Info: Contact Donna Zang (315) 783-8802, Jack Palumbo (203) 561-2543 or Bay Breeze Golf Links (315) 649-4653 (ask for Kris).

Book release by local author

Ellen E. Burns, a retired Senior Housing Specialist, has completed her new book "Over the River and Through the Woods": a gripping and potent illustrated fiction follows a granddaughter stopping for groceries and then rushing over to visit at her grandma's house, without knowledge of the surprise that awaits her.

Ellen writes, "This 'fractured fairy tale' is the result of Mrs. Burns' first attempt to step out of the comfort zone of writing from experience in her memoir and knock on the door of her imagination for her writer's group's meeting in November 2017. The assignment was to write a fiction piece. Ellen had tried unsuccessfully, in the past, to write fiction. She had become comfortable writing about her life experiences, during the months of sharing memoir excerpts with her 'Writers on the River', but attempting fiction again was untested and uncertain. This work was actually inspired by a remark made by her husband, as she struggled with the topic for that month's meeting.

This tale is set using names familiar with the locals, and to satisfy the assignment of writing fiction, it brings 'Little Red Riding Hood' to Northern New York."

Published by Newman Springs Publishing, Ellen E. Burns' delightful fairy tale-based story will give the kids much amusement as they go over the pages.

This is something both parents and kids can enjoy together!
